Dear Colleagues:

A very nice--and financially rewarding--option on the Historical Society's webpage--

https:// carbondalepahistorical.org

is the "Research Services" option.

If you click on the "Research Services" option at the top of the webpage, six options will appear, each with a price tag associated with it. Choose an option, pay the research fee (the money is automatically deposited into our checking account), and we'll do the research.

The " pay-in-advance" requirement is a very good requirement. It prevents our being taken advantage of by researchers. (No fee payment necessary for Historical Society members).

Today, I processed "Research Request No. 310".

These research requests come to us from all over America and from Great Britain as well. In recent years, walk-in/on-site/Carbondale research requests have declined in numbers, but electronic/webpage requests are received and processed regularly.

In many ways, we're a traditional/"old-fashioned" historical society, but we're also a "now" organization. The name of the game, as we all know, is: adapt and survive.

Sincerely,

S. Robert Powell

Attached are two photos: one of the very beautiful entrance to Gravity Park in Carbondale, and one of our Caboose in 1970 (many years before we bought it).
